From Missouri.

An attorney was addressing a jury on behalf of a prisoner.

"Gentlemen," he said, "witnesses have sworn that they saw the accused fire his gun; they have sworn they saw the flash and have sworn that this bullet was extracted from Pete Jackson's body; but, gentlemen, in the name of justice, I ask you where is the evidence that the bullet hit Pete Jackson?"—Tilt-Bits.

A Good Citizen.

A surgeon in a western town, engaged to perform an operation of minor character upon a somewhat unsophisticated patient, asked him if he was willing to have only a local anesthetic.

"Sure," replied the other. "I believe in patronizing home industry whenever you can."—Tilt-Bits.

Fashionable Sea Gate Is Prey To the Waves

The trial of A. M. McElwee, of Fort Worth, indicted in El Paso county on the charge of offering a bribe, has been set for hearing in the 34th district court on October 20, Mr. McElwee, accompanied by E. C. Orrick, of the law firm of Orrick & Terrell, of Fort Worth, is in El Paso, but both refuse to discuss the case.

Mr. McElwee, who is connected with the Texas Seating company, was indicted following the receipt in El Paso of a check for $25 in favor of Henry Welsch, who was at that time a member of the school board. The Texas Seating company, a short time before had sold a bill of seats to the school board. The check was given to the grand jury and the indictment followed.

"What about that check?" Mr. Orrick was asked Saturday.

"It's as clean as your mouth," he said.

Mr. McElwee and Mr. Orrick came to El Paso in an effort to secure a dismissal of the indictment. District Attorney Howe refused to consider the proposition.
